APRIL 2025 EDITION

President's Corner

As we move into April, we recognize the dedication and heart that drive the work of our nonprofit community. These times bring real challenges—especially around funding, sustainability, and meeting growing needs with limited resources. Yet what shines through is your resilience, creativity, and commitment to mission.

Across our building, we see organizations doing extraordinary work—advocating for justice, supporting communities, fostering dialogue, and shaping a more compassionate world. While financial uncertainties are real, they do not define us. What defines us is our collective spirit and ability to adapt, collaborate, and keep showing up.

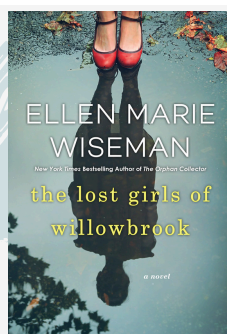

This month, let's continue to support one another—sharing ideas, resources, and encouragement. Whether it's joining forces on a program or simply taking time to recharge, these small acts of solidarity carry great weight.

Be sure to explore the Mission Master section of this newsletter—we've gathered a few helpful resources to support your growth and impact.

Thank you for being part of this mission-driven community. Together, we will rise to the moment, reimagine what's possible, and keep building toward a hopeful future.

Regards,

† Robert Bolton

BOOKS THAT BIND BOOK CLUB

THE RUTH PEALE LIBRARY

This month, the Books That Bind Book Club features Lost Girls of Willowbrook, a gripping historical thriller. As a young woman searches for her missing twin, she uncovers shocking secrets within the infamous Willowbrook State School. A powerful tale of mystery, resilience, and justice, this novel promises a compelling discussion.

TENANT SPOTLIGHT

REVEREND DR. CHLOE BREYER

ICNY
Interfaith Center of New York

This month, we spotlight The Interfaith Center of New York and its Executive Director, The Rev. Dr. Chloe Breyer, for their dedication to interfaith understanding and social justice.

About The Interfaith Center of New York:

ICNY is a secular nonprofit committed to overcoming prejudice and violence by empowering grassroots religious and civic leaders. ICNY focuses on:

- Civics Training – Educating religious leaders on civic engagement.
- Multi-Faith Advocacy – Building coalitions to prevent bias crimes and advance social justice.
- Religious Diversity Education – Training educators, social workers, and law enforcement to foster cooperation.
- Civil Rights & Religious Freedom – Advocating against discriminatory surveillance and protecting rights..

Spotlight on The Rev. Dr. Chloe Breyer:

Since 2007, The Rev. Dr. Chloe Breyer has led ICNY with passion and expertise. Under her leadership

- ICNY has pioneered civics training for religious leaders.
- Built strong advocacy coalitions to combat bias and advance reform.
- Championed civil rights protections post-9/11.
- Led initiatives promoting interfaith activism and Christian peacemaking.

An Episcopal priest in the Diocese of New York, Dr. Breyer has served Harlem congregations for over two decades. She earned a Ph.D. in Christian Ethics from Union Theological Seminary, focusing on interfaith activism and social justice.

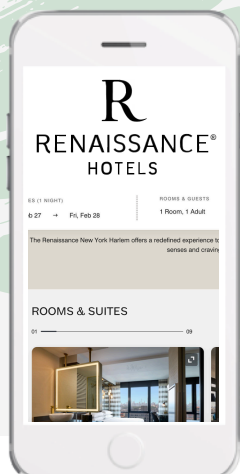

We celebrate The Rev. Dr. Chloe Breyer and ICNY for their commitment to interfaith collaboration and civic empowerment.
