

Nancy Benedetto

Executive Director

Nancy A. Benedetto, MS, AC, joined the Regional Emergency Medical Services Council of New York City in 1990, and became Executive Director, Administration, two years later. In that capacity, until her retirement in 2019, her responsibilities included oversight of staff, fiscal management, and program development. As the primary non-municipal EMS liaison with the New York City Municipality for Emergency Preparedness activities, she helped lay the foundation of NYC's hurricane and disaster response plans. A member of the REMSC Board of Directors, Ms. Benedetto has led the oversight body responsible for coordination of Emergency Medical Services in New York City, including policy development and medical treatment and transportation protocols.
